1. So what if I'm insane

Hope you enjoy my fanfic I'm rating it T for now but if you guys think it should be M then do say. I'm also saying we'll be doing a vote for pairing cause I'm not even sure I want a pairing. So anyway enjoy my yes Natsu can break the fourth wall and he does it alot. This is sort of based off the song Mad Hatter Melanie Martinez (did I spell that right?) so please enjoy...again.

So what if I'm crazy the best people are.

My brain is scattered, it's really easy to realize that once you talk or look at me. Oh I forgot my names Natsu... well it's Natsu Fullbuster but I'm not that fond of my surname, I'm an orphan so no that name is not for me. Yeah that sounded heartless, oh before I forget...never mind I forgot. So I guess you'll want to know about my life since it is a fanfiction soooo lets get started.

>Linebreak

I'm 12 years old almost thirteen, and go to fairytail high... yeah I know I should be middle school but I'm acutally a first year in high school and I'm hopefully gonna get to skip next year too. So you know how I said I'm insane weell I am just I'm _also _crazy smart. The way I see it is the quicker I can get out of school the quicker I can get rid of all the idiots that follow me around. You see being a younger kid in a high school means everyone thinks I'm their personal chibi when I'm smarter then everyone here! Anyway to the insane thing, I really am I see things, talk to people in my head... like you guys and when I sleep, weell let's just wait until later until I explain that, I don't want to ruin the suprise. Yeah so I should probaly get out of bed. I moved off the bed and looked in the mirror in the reflection was a child with pink hair and pure raw black eyes, his hair spiky and messy yet when he ran his hand through it-it was soft and fluffy. Natsu glared at his reflection "Why can't I have I normal look, I don't know maybe then people would stop treating me like some kind if chibi." He moaned and turned towards the sink, after washing my face and putting makeup on (to hide the black under his eyes) I ran downstairs and jumped into Gray's car. Gray is my older adoptive brother, he's in his second year of highscool and is sixteen soon to be seventeen, his black hair is a little longer and less spiker then mine and his dark blue eyes were always seeming to whatch new girls. His latest girl friend was named Juvia Lockser, it's sad I kinda liked her even though she treated me like a little kid there was still that line were she wouldn't mess with me. I'm not sure if this relationship is gonna last long though ever since Gray's dad died he's be going through a lot of girls. I yawned and buckled up then closed my eyes bracing myself for the question that I always hoped he would forget to ask. "Natsu did you take your meds?" Gray asked in a bored yet somewhat concerned tone. I moaned, of course I didn't all the stuff does is stop me from having dreams and it makes my friends go away. Oh my friends I forgot to tell you I have three friends that are true forever friends thier names are Ketsueki, Shi, and Endoresu. Endoresu is a boy black cat, Ketsueki is a girl blood red wolf and Shi is a girl black raven with red eyes. My mom told me two years ago that they're not real and she put me on meds. I took them the first six months then stopped because I figured out all the pills did where take away my friends and make me have horrible dreamless sleep. So I stopped, I pretended that I was taking them when I wasn't and I felt a little bad, just wanted the best for me and she thought the getting rid of my madness would be a good thing but in truth it just makes it worse. "Yes Gray I did now can we please get moving, hates when I'm late." I nipped at him. He grinned and said "Of course if it's for ." I pretended to blush and whispered under my breath. is in the same grade as me she's fiftteen and yet acts like she's four, I really hate her but I hate everyone except my friends sooooo that's probaly why.

>Linebreak

When we arrived at the school I dead out ran to my class, that way I could avoid the giggling wanna be mothers. While I was running down the hall I ran into Ultear. Ultear is Gray's sister she's going to college next year and I can't wait. "Why you brat I can't believe you bumped into me the QUEEN!" She screeched at me. I sighed and walked into my classroom, where Lucy was giggling to a boy named Sting. Sting is a horrible cruel mean BLONDE I hate him with a passion, he's just so mean to me and I have no idea why. Ugh, I need to pay attention. All the teacher did was drone on and on about the importantance of school and what we'd have to do next year. Why are they talking about next year, we just started this one! Come on, people think I'm crazy. When he was done talking the bell rang and I stood up, I have alot of free periods because most of my classes are done in private after school. So I zombie walked over to the lunch room which was currently empty, thanks to it being morning and layed all my school work out. I'm currently working on some college courses so that I'll be able to skip deeper into college when I'm out of high school. Ketsueki snuggled up against me and Shi sat on my shoulder. The lunch ladies know about my friends they can even see them too. My favorite lunch lady was Ms. Kiss she had pinkish white hair, less pink then mine but pink none the less and she was always nice to me and loved my friends. Speaking of she has a son named Zeref he is in college and is super nice to me and can also see my friends he visits the school all the time. Gray doesn't like him for some reason, he says that Zeref's creepy being so nice to me. says he's jealous because I talk to Zeref more then him. Anyway Zeref was here today and he was walking up to me right know. "Hi Nee-san" I said to him, he smiled and replied "Hey little brother." He ruffled my hair and smiled. Here's another odd fact that probaly has something to do with the story but I don't know because I'm a character, is that 12 almost 13 years ago the wife to Igneel Dragneel, and his two sons disappeared in thin air and the next day Dragneel was killed in cold blood. The current head of the Dragneel Corp. is Acnologia and the next heir is the oringinal heir's can't be found that is, will be Gajeel, Acnologia's son. I know him personaly and he's a pretty nice guy. I know this much about Dragneel because when I was trying to find my real family I looked up family's with a pink hair gene and they popped up. I know there not my real family though because said my real family died as I was born. Me and Zeref talked and then he left and I got up to leave when said "So what if we're crazy the best people are." and then she disappeared. I grabbed my stuff and ran out of the lunch room wondering what the heck that was.

Theres the end of the first chapter hope ya'll enjoyed. -Fuyu Dragneel **

2. This dream is a killer

So timeskip to after school blah blah blah. Pls enjoy and remember so what if I'm crazy the best people are.

Disclaimer- None this stuff mine except the stuff that is.

When I got home it was chaos. was yelling at Ultear for bad grades, Gray was with Juvia on the couch sitting reeeeeally and of course Lyon (another brother...hahaha that rhymed) was glaring at the two. I walked upstairs and layed on my bed. When most people look at the ceiling they see a flat surface or maybe a bumpy, creative people see things in the ceiling like pictures, I can see past it. It's like I'm looking through the ceiling into the sky...of a different world. I heard screaming down stairs and the slamming of a door and I sighed. Ever since died this family has been splitting apart, more then one way. For instance would make sure I swallowed my pills he would sit and whatch me swallow them, and yet he is one of the few people I didn't hate. will just tell me to take them and not even whatch me. I feel bad for skipping them it's just that ever since he died Gray and Lyon have been hateful towards me and Ultear hits me and just ignores me. I guess it's since I'm the adopted kid and they're trying to push through this and I'm just sitting there never crying or mopeing just being there. I hymed to myself and waited until the screaming stopped and I settled down. Then I closed my eyes waiting until I left this world.

Linebreak! heheheh you probaly hate me

You know that thing I said I was gonna tell you about last chapter, yeah I bet you forgot hehehe so anyway it's that when ever I fall asleep I go to a different world its amazing and fun but its just like if I would stay awake in the real world I get hurt and "wake up" tired. I think its worth it though soooooo I hope you enjoy my killer dream.

Line Break suck it up

This world was different it was bright spunky and unpredictable and was named _Wonderland. _I loved it and today I was going to visit the bells to ask them what to do about my family. I had to walk around grandma's house and past the rickety old bridge and walk under the stinky old shoe, then I finally reached the meadow. The meadow being where I would find the bells. The bells are giant flowers that can stand up and talk they call me an angelic dragon and always speak in song. I walked towards them and remembered that each gift the bells give you comes with a price. I shrugged and continued my walk towards them. When I arrived they started their song and handed me a small bottle.

_Even when you try so hard Every one will laugh every time you try to talk the insanity drives you mad even when you try to breathe the air never lands so drink this bottle it'll bring him to life yet be careful the consequences aren't meant to laugh every time you breathe in you'll hear a small beep each getting louder every time you make a peep, careful careful if you're not the insanity will drive you mad, you can keep your smarts and your tarts but you'll forever be mad.

I sat for a second and thought about what they meant by the song. After a minute or two I understood, if I drink the vial will come to life that's the reward the consequences being that I'll first lose my voice then after a few days I'll slip into a coma forever in wonderland. I thought about some more and came to another conclusion, that I'll have to join wonderland when I come and understanding this I came to a loop hole.

Ok quick thing, the bells story tells you the prize and the loss and that's that, but if you sing a rhyme back that'll change the end but the rule is you must pay the consequence so I started my song staring the bells straight in the eyes

_Ending-Ending so they say, yet I claim I want to play another day so I'll say this once or twice that I'll stay here for one year, yet while I'm here I play and play as the __Mad Hatter __day by day, hold your breath for the curse is broken as soon as a white haired girl comes to play._

I smiled knowing that these terms would be agreed to. Then I cut my arm on the glass grass to prove I'd come to wonderland yet another day. And drank the vial and closed my eyes till I say black.

When I woke up my throat felt like it was on fire and like I was on a sugar high. I got up and felt my eye twitching and an insane urge to start laughing. I walked down stairs to see crying with happiness. Okay so before you think I brought a dude back from the dead I didn't, it's just Mr. Fullbuster was in a death coma and his plug was going to be unplugged today. hugged me tightly and told me that daddy was coming home. I smiled knowing that it was worth it.

Line Break two weeks later

Mr. Fullbuster had had a full recovery and was just as happy as he was before he slipped into a coma. Me on the other hand was going mad, I would have to stifle giggles and laughs regularly and had to try and keep a straight face when people were talking to me and the worse being that when ever I went to wonderland I was attacked by a wierd wolf that seemed to be wanting my blood oh and I lost my voice, thought it was a stage. Anyway I was walking home from school when Sting and Rogue started pushing me around and Gray was running to come help when suddenly the two boys backed up. I had started laughing crazily and there was fire sitting right in my palm. Gray looked at me like I was a monster and shouted at me to stop. Sting and Rogue were backing up when I laughed harder and a crazy smile spread across my face and the fire started dancing up my arm not burning me but more like some one giving me a warm hug and then I passed out.

*Wine Break oops meant line break (this would be funnier if I drank aochoul(did I spell that right?))

Lisanna's Pvo

Natsu fell into a coma last week after a freak accident including fire. I don't know why but I feel as if I should help him not that he's connected to wonderland I mean the only spot left was Mad Hatter and he was to serious for that... right?

Hope you enjoyed I know I enjoyed writing it so pls review and meet you in wonderland. Updates will be random some really close together like this one then others being no farther apart then a week.

You like me best when I'm off my rocker.
